Press Release

The Shanghai Commercial and Savings Bank wins Best Managed Bank in Taiwan

- In the period under review, the Shanghai Commercial & Savings Bank (SCSB) strengthened its core corporate banking business while building a strong franchise in personal mortgage and wealth management services.
- It executed on its strategy of balanced growth while ensuring asset quality, liquidity sufficiency and capital adequacy.
- It secured more branch approvals than any other bank for six years in a row.
- Award presented by William Isaac, former chairman of FDIC

Jakarta, Indonesia, April 23rd, 2013 – The Shanghai Commercial & Savings Bank (SCSB) was named winner of the Best Managed Bank in Taiwan at the prestigious Asian Banker Leadership Achievement Awards held at the Ritz Carlton Kuningan in Jakarta, on April 23rd 2013.

The award was presented to John Yung, director and executive vice president of SCSB by William Isaac, a former chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC). Also present were Muliaman Hadad, the chairman of Indonesia's new Otoritas Jasa Keuangan (OJK) which is the country's equivalent of a Financial Services Authority and Cesar Virata, a member of the advisory council that decides on the award and the former prime minister of the Philippines.

In the period under review, SCSB expanded its domestic and overseas network, securing more branch approvals than any other bank for six years in a row. It strengthened its focus on corporate banking while building a strong franchise in personal mortgage and wealth management services.

It is the only Taiwanese bank with a full Greater China network, and is the first bank in Taiwan to receive approval in 2002 from the government to conduct direct remittances with financial institutions in China. The bank operates the largest volume of remittances from Taiwan to China and is reputed to offer the “fastest possible remittance between Taiwan and China.”

Despite fierce competition in the crowded, overbanked Taiwan banking market, the bank executed its strategy to ensure asset quality, liquidity sufficiency and capital adequacy.

The Asian Banker Leadership Achievement Awards 2013

About the Leadership Achievement Awards

The Leadership Achievement Award is a recognition programme that is run once every three years to assess the leadership of bank chairmen and CEOs on their respective businesses and the industry as a whole. This is the most important award programme that the Asian Banker runs because it underscores the importance of sound and visionary leadership in directing the future of the industry.

The award is also the most prestigious award for individual achievement in the banking industry in the Asia Pacific region today. The award plays an important role in cultivating a culture of excellence amongst people in leadership positions.

The selection process behind the award programme is a highly rigorous one. It takes stock of financial performance, the stated vision and strategy of the leaders as well as actual achievements, the feedback of staff, customers, investors and the industry through various surveys, a study of the management team and finally is validated by an experienced council of advisors.

The Board of Advisors

The following distinguished personalities served as members of the advisory council for the selection of this year's winners. They bring to bear tremendous expertise and global perspectives to the conduct of the annual meeting.

- Ian Johnston, former chief executive, SWIFT Asia Pacific (Chairman of the board)
- Cesar Virata, vice chairman, RCBC and former prime minister, Philippines
- Paul Chow, former chief executive, Hong Kong Exchange
- Alain Chevalier, Professor of Finance, ESCP, Europe

The Selection Criteria

The assessment for the awards is made on four inter-related criteria:

1. The financial performance of the leader's business under consideration. Here we look at annual results, or the financial performance of the business under review. Strong bottomline performance is the first determinant of a leader's suitability for consideration for this award.
2. Achievements in the period under review. We look for either a specific achievement or a series of achievements in the years under consideration. These can be in the form of an IPO, an M&A, strong organic growth, the introduction of a new strategy that works for the institution, a bold investment that turns in dividend and so on. The size and complexity of the achievement(s) are taken into account.

3. Overcoming adversities. Adversities in the period under review are not considered in a bad light under this programme. We take into account adversaries and the tenacity of the leader to overcoming them.
4. A well-communicated vision. We require all leaders to have made speeches, given interviews or written reports that provide his or her constituents a clear view of his or her own strategy and direction. These must co-relate to the achievements under consideration. We study all newspaper articles, speeches and interviews provided in the year under review to determine the consistency and commitment to the vision enunciated.
5. 360 degree review of peers and the industry. We run a series of surveys and interviews with staff, investment analysts, as well as an online poll of the public to ensure that there is broad acknowledgement of the leadership qualities of the candidate.
6. Augmented by a good team around the candidate. In order to distinguish between sustainable leadership and individual leadership, we study the composition and tenancy of the board of directors and/or senior management team around the candidate. We believe that a good candidate for an award in leadership would demonstrate the ability to work with others, inspire them and draw from them to grow the business. This is easier said than done, but we do know those who cut it and those who don't.

The Selection Process

The selection process begins in November and ends in March of the following year, involving a team of about six researchers. Candidates do not apply for the award, although they can be nominated. The initial selection is through a survey and desk research done by the research team at The Asian Banker. The identified candidates are then subject to further scrutiny through interviews with third parties, including local banking journalists and analysts who have had contact with the candidates, peers and third party reviews. The shortlisted candidates are then submitted for a review by the board of advisors, based on a comparative evaluation done by the research team.
